March/April 2024

Depending on where you are reading this from, you may find it hard to believe that Spring is “officially” upon us. Here in the Paris area, the milder temperatures and the budding flowers bear witness to the inescapable notion of growth in preparation for greater days ahead. What a reminder to our church that brighter days are still to come as we now are officially into our second year of “pop-up” church in the community center. Our burgeoning church continues to fill up the new space as we anxiously await the painfully slow process involved with our building project. However, there is finally some good news and hope on the horizon! The lease for the property is being prepared and will be available for us to sign in April. Once the ink is dry, the property will become ours for the next several decades and that will open the multiple doors that have remained closed to us up until now. Pray that the 2 banks who have been supportive so far will come through in the coming weeks when the detailed estimate is delivered.

In the last few weeks, we’ve had an amazing combination of visitors come through our doors. Some weeks it’s Muslims, some weeks we see atheists and sometimes it’s agnostics. Ever since our Christmas service, we’ve had a steady stream of teenagers coming. They started out as atheists, but 3 months later, we are certain they are closer than ever to putting the nuts and bolts of the Gospel together in their hearts.

Please pray with us for our special evangelistic Easter service. May the glorious and powerful message of the risen Savior transform the heart of every person present.

Because He lives, we serve.
