Dynamite!

It's hard to believe we're now entering year 4 of "pop-up" church. Sharing a hard-to-find community center with dozens of other associations has been challenging. Setting up and tearing down every Sunday is not ideal. Having to locate and organize places for baptisms can be tricky. The good news is that the power of the Gospel is unchanged and unfazed by our locale!

New life!

About those baptisms. The life changing power of the Gospel is at work here and we'd love to introduce you to some of our candidates. Jean-Paul, a 72 year old retiree, made a profession of faith last year. He said recently "I thought for years that because I believed in God I was going to be ok, that I was going to heaven. The more I attend and learn, the more I realize how life changing the Gospel really is."

Fabienne made a profession of faith as a child in Guyana. Unfortunately there were a number of "Christians" around her that weren't living for God. Their testimonies turned her off and away from baptism. Pray that this young wife and mother will embrace the importance of expressing to the world her desire to follow Christ.

Tiago a local university student began attending church a few months ago. Having little to no religious background to speak of, he became fascinated by the conviction and passion for Christ lived out by some of our young adults. He now says "I understand who Jesus Christ is and why He came to Earth. I want to live for Him and follow Him going forward."

CAUTION Men at Work

Resurrection promise!

In this Easter season we relish opportunities God grants us to share His victory. Our kids club saw nearly 20 children at our house, with many of them hearing the Easter story for the very first time. For Easter Sunday we are praying and planning for a full house and multiple visitors who need to grasp the precarity of their lives trapped in spiritual darkness.

Project 'Patience'

Do you remember that building permit we'd attained? It was a premature announcement as the prefect at the county seat discovered a few missing papers. Some documents seemed frivolous and illogical, however we're back to delays and red tape. Fortunately our builder has since submitted the necessary files and our dossier is back in the system. Lord willing, breaking ground now seems feasible sometime in the summer.

The good news is that the power of the Gospel is unchanged and unfazed by our locale!
